"This is a great group," Trump can be seen saying, "and they're going to lay the groundwork and detail plans for exactly what our movement will do and what your movement will do when the American people give us a colossal mandate to save America."

Overall, CNN found nearly 240 people with ties to both Project 2025 and to Trump, covering nearly every aspect of his time in politics and the White House – from day-to-day foot soldiers in Washington to the highest levels of his government. The number is likely higher because many individuals' online résumés were not available.

Trump and the Heritage Foundation — which is spearheading Project 2025 — have largely been aligned in the past. Just a year into Trump's presidency, the organization found that the administration had implemented 64% of its 334 policy recommendations. The current president of the Heritage Foundation has said that he views the organization's role as "institutionalizing Trumpism."

Former Trump officials authored, in full or in part, 25 out of the 30 chapters in the Project 2025 agenda (counting one person who was nominated by Trump but failed to get confirmed by the Senate).
